AN ACT TO INCORPORATE THE BOSTON HYDRAULIC COMPANY.

BE it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Section 1. William Sullivan, Daniel P. Parker, Caleb Eddy, their associates and successors, are hereby made a Corporation, by the name of the Boston Hydraulic Company, with all the powers and privileges, and subject to all the duties, liabilities and provisions contained in the forty-fourth chapter of the Revised Statutes, passed on the fourth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five.

Sec. 2. The capital stock of said company shall consist of one thousand shares, and no assessment shall be laid thereon of a greater amount in the whole, than one thousand dollars on each share.

Sec. 3. The said corporation may purchase, take and hold in fee simple, or for any less estate, any lands, necessary for the objects of this act, and for the convenient management of the concerns of said company, not exceeding in value the sum of two hundred thousand dollars, and may take any ponds or lands covered with water, situated northwardly of Charles River, and within twelve miles of the city of Boston, for the purpose of conducting water therefrom through the town of Charlestown, in the county of Middlesex, and into and through the city of Boston—and to this end, may take and hold any lands necessary for laying aqueducts, forming reservoirs, and any flats flowed by tide waters, which may be required to carry the objects of this act into effect, and may erect such wharves and other buildings as such corporation may find expedient, and establish such steam engines, and other machinery as may be necessary for the purposes aforesaid, and if the proprietors of lands which said corporation may take at or near ponds or elsewhere, for the purpose of laying pipes or conductors of water, constructing reservoirs, wharves or other buildings, or for the protection of the ponds whence water is to be taken or drawn by said company, do not agree with said company on the price to be paid therefor, any such proprietor may have the damage assessed in the same manner as is provided in the one hundred and sixteenth chapter of the Revised Statutes passed on the fourth day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, and the said corporation, in all cases, where it does not acquire title to any land by voluntary conveyance, shall cause a certificate describing the land so taken, to be signed by the President of said company, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds of the county in which the land lies.

Sect. 4. The said Corporation may erect dams at the outlets of any ponds, which said Corporation may take pursuant to the provisions of this act, and if any person shall thereby be deprived of water which has been accustomed to flow through or over his land; or if any lane of any person shall be flowed by means of raising the water by such dam, the party so injured may recover reasonable damages therefor in the manner provided by the preceding section.

Sect. 5. The said Corporation is hereby authorized and empowered to lay its pipes or aqueducts, under or over any railroad, canal, high-way, or street, provided always, that the same be done in such manner as not to obstruct or impede the passing thereon—and said Corporation may lay its pipes and aqueducts under or near Warren Bridge now erected across Charles River, from the town of Charlestown to the City of Boston, through the whole length of said bridge and its abutments—Provided always, that the same be so done as not to impede or obstruct the convenient passing of said bridge, and provided also, that in laying said pipes and aqueducts, or in the use or repair thereof from time to time, no damage or injury shall be done to said bridge—and provided further, that the pipes or aqueducts be so laid in Charles River as not to obstruct or impede the free passage of any vessel thereon.

Sect 6. The said Corporation in laying its pipes or aqueducts through the high-ways and streets of the town of Charlestown and in the City of Boston, and in repairing such pipes and aqueducts from time to time, shall not unnecessarily obstruct such high-ways and streets—and in every case after the removal of any earth or pavement in any such high-way or street the said Corporation shall cause the earth to be replaced and the pavement to be laid anew, so that such high-way or street shall be in as good condition as the same were in before such removal.

Sect. 7. In the laying and construction of the pipes or aqueducts which may be laid in the town of Charlestown and in the City of Boston, the same shall be so laid and constructed that water can be drawn therefrom for the ex inguishment of fires and to be used by the persons thereto authorized by the town of Charlestown and by the city of Boston respectively, and free access to the water in such pipes and aqueducts shall be had whenever the same shall be laid within the city of Boston, and within that part of the town of Charlestown lying within or eastwardly of the neck so called—and the said town and city shall have the right at their own cost respectively, to place fire plugs and all proper and necessary fixtures therefor upon any pipes or aqueducts of said Corporation, and at as many different places in the several highways and streets as the Selectmen of the said town and the Mayor and Aldermen of the said city shall deem needful for the purpose of drawing water for the extinguishment of any fires which may happen in said town or city. Provided, that the said fire plugs and fixtures shall not be used for the purpose of drawing water from said pipes for any other use than for the extinguishment of fires, and shall be so constructed as to prevent the water in the pipes from running to waste, and the said Corporation shall not demand or receive any compensation for water taken for the extinguishment of fires as aforesaid.

Sect. 8. If any person shall wilfully, and maliciously, defile, corrupt or make impure any pond or ponds, used by said Corporation as aforesaid, or destroy or injure any dam, pipe, aqueduct, machinery or other property of said Corporation, such person and all who shall aid or abet in such a trespass, shall forfeit to the use of the said Company for every such offence treble the amount of damages which shall appear on the trial to have been sustained thereby, and may further be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or may be imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year.

Sec. 9. The said Corporation is hereby empowered to sell the privilege of using the water which may be conducted from the ponds as aforesaid to any corporation, person or persons, said contracts to continue for no longer term than three years, provided that no compensation shall be taken for the use thereof for the extinguishment of fires as aforesaid; and the said Corporation may make all reasonable rules and regulations, as to the manner and the times in which said water may be taken and used.

Sec. 10. Whenever the said Corporation shall have appropriated any pond or ponds, or any lands, which it may deem necessary and proper for carrying the purposes of this act into effect, no other corporation, person or persons, shall enter upon such pond or ponds, or land for the purpose of conducting the waters in such pond or ponds, or any streams connected therewith into the city of Boston or town of Charlestown—nor draw the same out of said pond or ponds for any purpose whatsoever; but such water shall be and remain to and for the use of said Corporation, so long as said Corporation shall supply the town of Charlestown and the city of Boston with water from said ponds according to the true intent and meaning of this act.

Sec. 11. The said Corporation shall cause a true and faithful record of its proceedings, and just and accurate accounts, to be kept, which books and accounts shall be subject at all times, to the inspection of any committee appointed by the General Court, or by a committee appointed by the City Council of Boston, and all officers and agents of said corporation shall be liable to examination on oath by either of said committees.

Sect. 12. The City of Boston shall have the right to subscribe [in common with others] for one third part of the shares in said Corporation, or any less proportion thereof; and the said city may at any time purchase of the said Coporation their franchise, and all their personal and real property, by paying therefor such a sum as together with their receipts will reimburse the whole amount expended, with an annual interest of ten per cent.; and from and after the execution and delivery of the conveyance and transfer aforesaid, the said City of Boston shall have all the right and be subject to all the duties in this act expressed as to said Corporation, and especially as to continuing the supply of water, to the town of Charlestown.

Sect. 13. If the said Corporation shall not have begun to carry this act into effect by actually laying pipes and aqueducts within three years from the passing of this act—or if the whole of the works necessary to bring water into the City of Boston shall not have been completed and put to that use within six years after the passing of this act, then and in either of said cases, this act shall be void.

Sect. 14. This act shall be void, unless the City Council of the City of Boston shall within four months after the passage thereof declare by vote their assent thereto, and if such assent be obtained, this act and an attested copy of the record of such assent shall be recorded in the registry of deeds for the County of Suffolk.

Passed, April 16, 1836.

The foregoing act to be printed in the papers which print the City Ordinances.

By order of the Mayor and Aldermen.

POETRY.

THE TREATY.—BY CAROLINE BOWLES.

Never tell me of loving by measure and weight,
As one's merits may lack or abound;
As if love could be carried to market, like skate,
And cheapened for so much a-pound.

If it can—if yours can—let them have it who care—
You and I, friend! shall never agree;
Pack up, and to market—be off with your ware,
It's a great deal too common for me.

Do ye linger?—D'ye laugh?—I'm in earnest I swear,
But belike over hasty of thought;
If it suits ye to close with my terms as they are,
Well and good—but I won't bate a jot.

You must love me—we'll note the chief articles now,
To preclude all mistakes in our pact,
And I'll pledge ye unasked and beforehand my vow,
To give double for all I exact.

You must love me—not only through 'evil report,'
When its falsehood you know or divine,
But when upon earth I can only resort
To your heart, as a voucher for mine.

You must love—not my faults, but, in spite of them, me,
For the very caprices that vex ye—
Nay, the more should ye chance, as it's likely, to see,
'Tis my special delight to perplex ye.

You must love me, albeit all the world I offend
With my follies, my failings, conceit,
While assured (if you are not, all treaty must end,)
That I never can stoop to deceit;—

While assured (as as you must be, or there, too, we part)
That were all the world leagued against you,
To loosen one hair of your hold on my heart,
Would be more than 'life's labors' could do.

You must love me, howe'er I may take things amiss,
Whereof you in all conscience stand clear,
And although when you'd fain make it up with a kiss,
Your reward be a box on the ear.

You must love me—not only when smiling and gay,
Complying, sweet-tempered, and civil,
But when moping, and frowning, and froward—or say
The thing plain out—as cross as the devil.

You must love me in all moods—in seriousness—sport—
Under all change of circumstance, too;
Apart, or together, in crowds, or —— in short
You must love me—because I love you!

We, be to that man who trifles with the human heart as it were a thing of light import—who, having sought till he obtained the "answering look of love from woman's eye," that undeniable proof of the return of his affection, casts aside as valueless the heart he then knows to be his own! No word of reproach from the injured one may assail his ear, and the absence of reproof from without may lull the accusations of his inward monitor, but he may rest assured that, in the eye of God, he is regarded as a murderer. His strict tables of justice admit not of the palliations that man will conjure up to clear him in his own eyes; and this he will feel when reason, asserting her sway over his passions, convinces him of the cruelty and injustice of his conduct. He will then seek to hide his very head for shame. But his remorse is now in vain for her whom death has already secured as his prize: no earthly power can reanimate the heart now cold in the grave, and the conviction, that she, whom his neglect has placed where she is forever beyond the reach of reparation, embitters reflection to the last moment of his existence.—Irving.

Dr. H J was one of the most able, talented and eccentric surgeons of the last century. His practice embraced a large circuit, and his fame extended to every part of the State. The Dr. was one morning sitting in his office poring over some medical work fresh from the mother country via Boston, when a loud rap at the door aroused him. "Come in," said the Dr. and an old lady hobbled into the apartment who seemed the very embodiment of dirt and negligence.

"Dr.! I've got a desp'rate sore foot—can you help it?"

"I will try—let me see it."

The old crone proceeded to divest her understanding of the apology for a hose with which it was covered, and displayed to the astounded Dr. a foot—and such a foot!

"My G—d!" exclaimed the Dr. throwing up both hands in amazement—"what a dirty foot!"

"La! Dr.—ye need'nt be in such a wonderment about it—there's dirtier feet than that in the world—I'se warrant—aye, and a dirtier foot than that in your own house as proud as the young ladies, your daughters are—for all that"—and the old hag cackled forth her pleasure at the Dr's astonishment.

"Woman! if you can find a dirtier foot than that in my house, I will give you a guinea and cure your foot for nothing."

"'Pon honor?" said the Beldame.

"'Pon honor," cried the Dr.

The old woman stript off the other stocking, and displaying a foot that beggared all description, grinned in the face of the astounded Dr. exclaiming, "Gie'me the guinea! Gie'me the guinea! I know'd it—I know'd it! I wash'd 'tother 'fore I come here!"—N. H. Gazette.

Turkey Bosom.—Terence O'Brien was attached (in company with Peter Simple) to one of the British frigates, which was ordered to the West Indies. While there, he attended "a dignity ball" by the colored "Ladies and Gentle." After having danced the last country dance with "Miss Minerva," he of course had the honor of handing her into the supper room. "It was my fate," says he, "to sit opposite to a fine turkey and I asked my partner if I should not have the pleasure of helping her to a piece of the breast. She looked at me very indignantly, and said, "Curse your impudence, sar, I wonder where you larn manners. Sar, I take a lilly turkey bosom, if you please."

A Boy his own Grandfather.—There was a widow and her daughter-in-law, and a man and his son. The widow married the son, and the daughter the old man; the widow was, therefore, mother to her husband's father, consequently grand-mother to her own husband. They had a son to whom she was great grand-mother. Now as a son of a great grand-mother must be either a grand father or great grand uncle, this boy was therefore his own grandfather. This was actually the case with a boy at a school in Norwich.

Negro Sermon.—One of the black preachers in Freetown, preached from the text, "Melchizedec, without father, without mother, without descent," which he proceeded to explain to his audience:—Dat mean to say—without father, him have no daddy; without mother, him have no mammy; without descent, dat mean for say, without any genteel behavior at all.—Rankin's White-man's Grave.

According to the recent statistical tables, the property owned by the state in France, and which is devoted to the public fixtures, is about one hundred millions of dollars.—The national domain, consisting of forests and lands, is valued, in addition, at one hundred and fifty millions, one half of which produces no revenue, and the whole is exempt from taxation

BOSTON MORNING POST.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 5, 1836.

"In the state of things at present existing in this country, my personal wishes are, to withdraw my name from the place it occupies before the public." DANIEL WEBSTER.

The Atlas again.—The Atlas makes three unfounded objections to the "Treasury Circular." The first we have already considered, and shown it to be altogether puerile and chimerical. The second will be found to be no better. It is, that an exception is made in favor of actual settlers on purchases not exceeding 320 acres of land, of whom bank notes, &c. may be received, in lieu of the specie, &c. required of speculators and large purchasers, not actual settlers. The Atlas inquires, "Where is the authority for this?—What law gives the Secretary power to distinguish between purchasers of the public lands for settlement, and other purchasers?"

To this we reply,—No law, giving the Secretary power, is necessary:—it is a part of his discretionary power; a power which has always been exercised in this country, and in every other, and will always be allowed and exercised under every good and rational government. The legal payments to government, as to individuals, are gold and silver only, with the exception of such other equivalents as Congress may have specially authorized. For the convenience both of the government and the public, the Treasury authorizes, as an indulgence, such other payments as are by every body esteemed to be perfectly equivalent to gold and silver;—that is, which are perfectly safe, and which are convertible, at any moment, into gold and silver.—Such are the bank notes received in our cities for revenue bonds. Moreover, it is thought a good, a just, and a patriotic policy, to encourage and induce the actual settlers, the industrious farmers, with small property, to purchase and settle upon the public lands. It is also thought wise, to DISCOURAGE the mere speculators, the actual gamblers, the great capitalists, and the idle adventurers, the latter of whom, too proud or too lazy to gain property by labor, hope to rise above their poor and industrious countrymen by entering into gambling speculations. Such purchasers will monopolize and enhance the prices of lands, and thus render it very difficult for the poor, laboring, intended settlers to procure them. All the public lands will, it is to be feared, (such is the present rage for land speculation, and for obtaining property by other means than wholesome industry, soon fall into the hands of these speculators;—the consequence of which will be, that the prices will be doubled, tripled, quadrupled, not for the public advantage, but for the sole advantage of these monopolizers, and to the great injury, detriment, and discouragement of that industrious class, who wish to become actual settlers, and to bring the soil under cultivation.

Now, for the few dollars, which lots not exceeding 320 acres will amount to, it is of no perceptible importance to the government, whether they be received in specie or in good bank notes; because, a certain amount of money must be expended by government in the part of the country near which these lands are situated, or near the banks whose bills are received. So far, therefore, such bills may be received without any inconvenience. But if all the great payments of these large speculators were so received, they could not be so expended, and the government would be put to great inconvenience, expense, and risque, in transmitting such funds to the Atlantic cities, where they would be wanted. This is a sufficient reason in itself. But where the distinction is made to encourage industry, economy, and personal labor, and to discourage speculation, monopoly, gambling, idleness, and dissipation, that distinction is on this account a wholesome one;—is, in itself, deserving the support and approbation of the country;—and will most assuredly receive that approbation and support.

In few words,—The government has, and always has had, the discretionary power, without any express law therefor, to make such regulations and distinctions. Such a power has always been exercised and acknowledged in this country. It has always been exercised and acknowledged in every other civilized country. It has, in this case, been exercised correctly, soundly, and judiciously, and in such a manner as cannot fail to meet the public approbation, and to add still further to the laurels, which have been so liberally bestowed upon the existing excellent Administration.

They are not slow in Ohio.—The Democratic Meetings there are very numerous and their proceedings of the most spirited character. The following, with many other counties, have held large county meetings; viz: Hamilton, Licking, Franklin, Fairfield, Perry, Morgan, Logan, Montgomery, Allen, Muskingum, Guernsey, Belmont, Jefferson, &c. &c. These gatherings of the people, the zeal they manifest, and the harmony that prevails throughout their whole proceedings, exhibit a sound state of the body politic, and may be considered as a sure pledge that the cause of democracy will prevail against the combined force of the opposition in Ohio, at the next October and November elections.

This looks rebellion.—When we see a sturdy whig paper, like the Springfield Republican, speaking in such terms as follow of the Governor, it is too evident to be denied that there is trouble in the camp of the enemy. Disguise it as they may a deep rooted dissatisfaction with Governor Everett's Administration exists all over the Western part of the Commonwealth.—Gloucester Democrat.

Edward Everett.—"We dislike, as much as the Editor of the Gazette, to impute DISHONORABLE and SINISTER MOTIVES, to a public man, especially a man whom we have so highly respected as MR. EVERETT; BUT FACTS AND CIRCUMSTANCES MAKE THE IMPUTATION IRRESISTIBLE."—Springfield Republican.

THE SLAVE RESCUE AGAIN.

As the accuracy of our original report of the transactions which took place in the Supreme Court Room on Monday last, has been directly and indirectly called in question, by some who have an interest in disguising the truth, and by others whose only motive is to endeavor to impair the credibility of the Post, as an organ of intelligence of passing events, we have taken some pains to investigate further the history of every fact stated by us in the Post of Tuesday. In this connexion, we would observe, that the Post, Daily Advertiser, Atlas, Courier, Centinel & Gazette, Herald, and Mercantile Journal, agreed substantially in their reports. The Atlas, Journal, and Post, we believe, were the only papers who had reporters present during any part of the affair. The Post contained more particulars subsequent to the rescue than the others, the reporter having gathered them from observation and from conversation with actors in the scene.

We stated that "a Mrs H. G. Chapman and a Mrs Southwick assailed the agent with great warmth." The friends of Mrs Chapman, authorized by herself, deny that she spoke to Mr Turner. We will not omit to do justice to that lady in consequence of the irresponsible medium through which she has caused her disclaimer to be published, nor on account of the language in which that disclaimer is couched; but will give to the public the evidence on which we made the statement, freely admitting that there was room for an unpleasant mistake. We saw Mr Turner in conversation with two or more ladies, on the jury seats, on the right of the bench. There was more than one lady speaking. The reporters of the Journal and Atlas and ourself were also conversing about the affair, about 10 feet off. In a minute or two Mr Turner came up to us, with a piece of paper and pencil in his hand, somewhat excited, and remarked, "I hope those ladies are not the best specimens of Boston manners. I never was so much abused in my life. Can either of you gentlemen give me their names." Each of us answered in the negative. Two young men, whose insolence to Mr Turner we referred to on Tuesday, intruded into our circle, and said—"The lady who spoke to you is Mrs Chapman—she is not ashamed of her name, nor her opinions. She stands as high for character and respectability as any lady in this city." One of the precious youths added—"If you can't spell her name, I'll do it for you." The name of Mrs Southwick was also given. During this conversation, the ladies—four in number—left the Court House, and we had no opportunity of identifying either of them with the names so officiously given by their apparent friends. Mr Turner inquired of several other persons the names of the ladies, and became satisfied that Mrs Southwick was the lady whose name, for some reason, he was anxious to ascertain, and made a memorandum accordingly.

We now pass to two paragraphs in the Transcript; in one of which it is denied, that the Chief Justice said the slaves were in Sheriff Sumner's custody, and that he must see that they were brought back. We have it from a high officer of the Court that the Chief Justice did say so—first to Mr Huggeford, and then to Mr Sumner, who came in afterwards. The precise words used by His Honor are not recollected.

In the second paragraph referred to in the Transcript, it is said—"That Chief Justice Shaw considered the prisoners as virtually discharged."

We have indisputable authority for saying, that neither Judge Shaw nor Judge Wilde considered the slaves to be discharged, either "virtually" or otherwise. The Chief Justice considers the case as one still pending, on which he has found no judgment, given no final opinion, and made no order.

We have used all possible diligence to discover to what extent Mr Sheriff Sumner was acquainted with the case, and connected with the custody, of the slaves. On Saturday, in the presence of three gentlemen, and in the hearing of the negroes, Mr Sumner said to Mr Sewell, "I wish you success in your cause, sir." This remark was not made in an under-tone, but for the benefit of the "general ear," as well as "eaves-droppers." On Saturday afternoon, Mr Huggeford would not assume the responsibility of committing the slaves to jail,—and Mr Sumner did: this he admits. We are further informed that Mr Sumner acted with his deputy in bringing the slaves up in a carriage from the prison on Monday morning. Mr Sumner was in the Court before and about the time the Chief Justice came in, and saw the collection of blacks, and saw that the collection continued to increase. It has been generally understood, that the Deputy Sheriff, when the Sheriff may be found, has not the power to station constables, which is the peculiar province of the Sheriff; and Mr Huggeford had a right to suppose that they would be so stationed, if needed, by the Sheriff.

Before any trouble actually took place, Mr Huggeford applied to a gentleman, as follows:—"I wish you would either go yourself, or send some person, over to the New Court House for the Sheriff, and ask him to come over, and bring as many officers as he can procure." The gentleman—a member of the bar—bore the message to Mr Sumner in person. Mr Sumner replied—"Is there any thing stirring?" The gentleman answered—"There is a probability of a stir." The Sheriff began to gather up his papers from the desk, and the gentleman left him.

The next trace we find of Mr Sumner, he is seen passing from the New Court House to Franklin Avenue, at the head of which he met a constable, to whom he said—"I wish you to go over to the Court House, and assist Mr Huggeford." He then passed down Franklin Avenue—and, of course, away from the Court House,—and was not seen at the Court House till after Mr Huggeford had had some conversation with the Chief Justice as to the course to be pursued with regard to the escape.

The Sheriff, as far as we can learn, did not advise measures, or give directions for a pursuit. When Mr Huggeford returned from his first expedition, Sheriff Sumner said to him—"I approve all you have done so far, Mr Huggeford, and I will share the expenses, but whatever you may do further, you must do on your own responsibility, as I consider the ends of justice satisfied by what has been done."

We do not propose to discuss the question of Sheriff Sumner's duty in relation to the unhappy event, which has brought his name so unfavorably before the public. We have ever esteemed him as a scrupulously faithful officer, though distinguished by certain formal peculiarities. But the facts which we here present have been derived from gentlemen of unblemished integrity, and who can have no motive for misrepresenting Mr Sumner's acts.

Note.—As there has been some difference of opinion expressed in various quarters respecting the law in relation to runaway slaves, we append an opinion delivered by the late Chief Justice, in the case of Commonwealth v. Cornelius Griffith, in Pickering's Rep. v. 2, p. 11.—Griffith's authority, as agent, to arrest the slave without warrant, was the principal point discussed. Griffith held a power of attorney from Mason, the administrator on the estate of the former owner of the slave:—

"PARKER, C. J. delivered the opinion of a majority of the Court, in substance as follows. The first question is, whether the defendant was duly empowered as an agent to reclaim the slave. We do not decide whether a scroll is a seal, though probably it would not be so considered in this state. But we think that a letter of attorney was not required to communicate power to this agent. In general a seal is not necessary, except to authorize the making of a sealed instrument. A common letter or a parol authority is sufficient for making many important contracts. The words of the statute are, "the person to whom such labor or service may be due, his agent or attorney." If a letter of attorney were required, the statute would have used the word attorney only; but the word agent being also used serves to explain the intention of the legislature.

The question then is, whether Mason, having been duly appointed administrator under the laws of Virginia, had a right to come here himself and claim the slave; for the claim by his agent was the same as if made by himself. It has been decided that a foreign administrator cannot come here to collect a debt; and if it was necessary to pursue the slave in the character of administrator, the authorities are clear against the defendant. But by the statute of the United States the person to whom the service is due may reclaim, and by the laws of Virginia an administrator is such person. Taking both together, Mason might come here to reclaim, and it was not necessary that he should come in the character of an administrator.

This brings the case to a single point, whether the statute of the United States giving power to seize a slave without a warrant is constitutional. It is difficult in a case like this, for persons who are not inhabitants of slaveholding states, to prevent prejudice from having too strong an effect on their minds. We must reflect, however, that the constitution was made with some states in which it would not occur to the mind, to inquire whether slaves were property. It was a very serious question, when they came to make the constitution, what should be done with their slaves. They might have kept aloof from the constitution. That instrument was a compromise. It was a compact by which all are bound. We are to consider then what was the intention of the constitution. The words of it were used out of delicacy, so as not to offend some in the convention whose feelings were abhorrent to slavery; but we there entered into an agreement that slaves should be considered as property. Slavery would still have continued if no constitution had been made.

The constitution does not prescribe the mode of reclaiming a slave, but leaves it to be determined by Congress. It is very clear that it was not intended that application should be made to the executive authority of the state. It is said that the act, which Congress has passed on this subject, is contrary to the amendment of the constitution, securing the people in their persons and property against seizures, &c. without a complaint upon oath. But all the parts of the instrument are to be taken together. It is very obvious that slaves are not parties to the constitution, and the amendment has relation to the parties.

But it is said that when a seizure is made, it should be made conformably to our laws. This does not follow from the constitution, and the act of Congress says that the person to whom the service is due may seize, &c. Whether the statute is a harsh one, is not for us to determine. But it is objected that a person may in this summary manner seize a freeman. It may be so, but this would be attended with mischievous consequences to the person making the seizure, and a habeas corpus would lie to obtain the release of the person seized. We do not perceive that the statute is unconstitutional, and we think that the defence is well made out."

Judge Thacher dissented from the opinion of his brethren; but the principle that a warrant is not necessary prior to an arrest of a slave is clearly recognized in the decisions of the Supreme Courts of other States. See the opinions of Chief Justice Tilghman, in Pennsylvania, in 5 Serg. and Rawle, p. 62, Wright v. Deacon; and vol. 2. p. 305, Commonwealth v. Holloway. Also 9 Johns. p. 67, Glen v. Hodges, in New York, and Sergeants Const. Law, p. 388, and 3 Story's Com. p. 677.

In addition to the above authorities, which we have carefully examined, we would state that Judges Story and Davis have uniformly refused to issue warrants for the arrest of runaway slaves, upon the express ground, that the law did not require such warrant.

Even a free white man, who absconds from his bail, may be taken without warrant. See 8 Pick. p. 158, Commonwealth v. Bricket; 7 Johns. 145, Nichols v. Ingersoll; 3 Yeates, p. 37, United States v. Bishop; also p. 263.

The Transcript of last evening says—

"We are given to understand, in regard to this case, that when Mr Huggeford (who is still absent, in pursuit of the women) returns to town, a new statement will be published, conflicting, in some respects, with that of the High Sheriff."

The Creek War.—Charleston papers of Saturday bring intelligence that a battle was fought in Stewart county, Georgia, on the preceding Sunday, between a party of 250 hostile Creeks and two Companies of Georgia troops, consisting of about ninety men, in which the latter were defeated and put to rout, with the loss of five killed and several wounded. This action took place near fort McCrary. The loss of the Indians is said to have been 30 killed.

We copy the following from the Standard of Union, July 27:—

I think you may rest assured, public opinion to the contrary notwithstanding, that the war has not yet closed.

We learn that General Sanford has taken the most vigorous means to reinforce our troops in the neighborhood of Roanoke and fort McCrary, and for acting efficiently against the Indians. He is going in person with all his disposable force in pursuit of the enemy.

☞ We are gratified to see it officially announced in the Globe, that the Franklin Bank, South Boston, has been appointed one of the Deposite Banks by the Government. South Boston is a flourishing and rapidly increasing portion of the city, and the public here will be rejoiced at every new facility afforded to its enterprising inhabitants in the management of their business. The Franklin Bank is managed upon liberal and safe principles, and the additional power it will acquire by the recent act of the Government will, undoubtedly, be exercised in a manner gratifying and satisfactory to all interested in its operations.

Cutting it fat.—The Providence papers declare that there is not a single case of Small Pox in that city, notwithstanding a pedlar, last week stated in Slatersville, that he had just come from Providence, and to his knowledge there were more than 500 persons sick with the Small Pox in the city, and advised people to buy his goods, and not expose their lives in Providence.

Look out.—Five dollar notes of the old Farmers Exchange Bank,—which has been dead for years—are quite plenty. A young man, (who is known) passed one in Washington Street an evening or two since—and if he don't "call at the capins office and settle," he will soon find himself in trouble.

Louisiana Election.—In the House of Representatives, thirty-six friends of Van Buren are elected to fourteen Whigs. In the Senate, the Whigs have two majority. Messrs Johnson and Garland (Whigs) and General Ripley (V. B.) are re-elected to Congress. This looks well for the good cause.

Prices of Stock are the same as last week, with the exception of the following:—Atlas Bank now stands 101 a 102; Columbian, 103 a 104; State, 61 1-2 a 62 1-2; Neptune Insurance Company, 102 a 103; Tremont, 100 a 101; Washington, 106 a 107.

Military.—At a meeting of the officers of the 3d Brigade 1st division M. M., holden at the Echange Coffee House on Wednesday afternoon Col. Josiah L. C. Amee of the 3d Regt was elected Brigadier General.

Specie.—The Albany Evening Journal says that three hundred thousand dollars, in specie, passed through that city on Tuesday, on its way to Detroit.

Mr. Schmidt's last night at Amory Hall—come, reader, let's go up and see him.

The captive Creeks, 12 or 1300 in number, arrived at New Orleans, on their way west, on the 18th ult.

Taunton Railroad.—The cars commenced running on Monday, twice a day, each way. Fare, $1.50. Our citizens, says the Whig, will thus be enabled to leave home after breakfast, spend seven hours in Boston, and return to tea.

Terrible Affray.—The steamer Carrolton, arrived on Sunday last from Vicksburg, brings intelligence of a deadly affray which took place there previous to leaving, between a planter of the name of Randolph and a Dr. Watts; both citizens of the place. It originated from an old grudge, said to have existed between the parties for some time. It appears Dr. W. met Mr. R. on the morning of the 14th inst. when he drew from his breast a pistol which he fired at Randolph: but missing him, and perceiving that he was unarmed he ran up to him and inflicted several severe blows on his head with the butt end of the pistol. Some time after, when Randolph had recovered from the blows inflicted on him, he armed himself with a brace of pistols, and meeting Watts at the Mansion house, where they both boarded, followed him and fired as he entered his own room, when in the act of seating himself alongside his lady. The ball passed through his right arm; with the other he made an effort to seize Randolph, but failing, R. fired a second pistol at him, the ball from which lodged in his side. The doctor's brother on being informed of the rencontre, seized a rifle and made towards Randolph's apartment, threatening to break open the door and take his life. The window happening to be open at the moment, R. fired from it with unerring aim, and shot W. through the heart. Both the Watts' were placed on the same bed, the dead and dying—a sight well calculated to check the uncontrolled and fiery passions of those around. Randolph after the perpretation of the above, walked deliberately from the room into the street, amongst a crowd of spectators, with cocked pistols in each hand. No attempt was made to impede his progress, and he quietly proceeded to the ferry, which he crossed, seemingly under no apprehension of arrest.—N. Orl. Adv.

Melancholy.—Mrs. Martha (aged 25 years) wife of Mr. Ephraim Batchelder, of this city, was drowned in Casco Bay, on Monday last. As we gather the facts from Mr. B. they are as follows: Himself and the deceased were in a small sail boat, when by some accident, the boat upset. He succeeded in grasping his wife, and in righting the boat several times. For two hours, he thinks, he sustained himself and wife, by the aid of the boat—which, being full of water, was a most precarious support. But his extraordinary exertions did not avail his unfortunate wife. He was compelled to see her perish, notwithstanding his extraordinary efforts. At the expiration of about two hours, from the time the boat upset, Mrs B. died, from terror and fatigue. But, though she had perished, he still supported her lifeless body, an hour and a half longer—that her friends might, if by chance he should be rescued, have the melancholy satisfaction of performing the last duties to her remains. His herculean powers, and heroic devotion did not avail. He could sustain her no longer—and she floated away from his grasp. On being asked if there was no other person in the boat, he replied, "nothing else at all but a poor dog—and once when the body of my wife escaped from my hold and was floating away, he swam after it, and brought it back!" Mr. B. gradually floated towards the shore—but from cold and exhaustion became senseless before he reached it. When he recovered his senses, he found himself upon the beach—the tide receding—and his boat a rod or two from him.—Portland Argus.

Latest from Texas.—The bark Charles P. Williams arrived at New Orleans on the 18th ult. from Matagorda Bay, which place she left on the 9th, bringing about ninety passengers, chiefly women and children; the major part of them Mexican families from the country adjacent to Texas. The removal is said to be in conformity with an order from Gen. Rusk, who is going to lay waste that part of the country; in order to harrass the Mexican army on their march, as by this means they would be left without food for themselves or forage for their horses. The Charles P. Williams, contradicts the report that the Mexican brig Vencedor del Alamo had blockaded the Texan brig Brutus at Matagorda. The brig that was taken for the Vendecor del Alamo, must have been the Texan brig Durango. The armed Texan schooners Invincible, Brutus, and Revenge, sailed on the 9th to cruise off the Mexican coast and to blockade the port of Matamoras.

The Texan army, by the last accounts, was encamped at Victoria, on the Guadalope river, awaiting the approach of the enemy, and increasing rapidly in numbers. The Mexican army is concentrating on a rising ground, two miles distant from Matamoras, and have sent to the division of the army on the borders of Texas to join them, intending to enter Texas in a body.—Jour. Com.

FROM FLORIDA.

We have private advices from Florida, of as late date from St. Augustine as the 26th of last month. Information had reached that place of an encounter between a body of Indians and a detachment of the Army, employed in removing and escorting stores, &c from Fort Drane (which is abandoned as a military post) to Micanopy. The escort about eighty in number, when within less than a mile of Micanopy, was attacked by a considerable body of Indians, and a fight maintained for nearly an hour with them; at the end of which, the officer in command at Micanopy, having heard the report of the firing, marched instantly to the ground, at the head of forty men; on the appearance of whom the Indians retreated.

During the action we regret to learn that Dr. RD. WEIGHTMAN, Army Surgeon, and Capttain ASHBY, of the 2d Regiment Dragoons, were severely wounded, and twelve privates killed and wounded.—Nat. Int.

Speed.—We conversed last evening with a gentleman that arrived in the steamboat from Albany, who communicated to us the following fact. On Monday morning, he in company with about three hundred persons, among whom were the Mayors of Albany and Schenectady, and the Vice President, left the former city at half past six, A. M., and dined at Utica, returning to Albany the same evening. After a comfortable night's rest, several of the party reached this city last evening, many having left here on Sunday, dined at Utica on Monday, and home again on Tuesday evening at sunset.—N. Y. Gazette.

Disgraceful Outrage.—A highly respectable married female, residing in Franklin street, while on her way home from church, on Sunday evening, in company with her sister, an amiable and accomplished young lady, was rudely assailed by two ruffians, who treated her with great violence and indecency, and would have proceeded to still greater lengths, had she not been rescued by some gentlemen who were attracted to the spot by her shrieks for assistance.—N. Y. Trans.

Attempt to Kill.—On Tuesday morning, says the New York Express, a wretch named Vale, fired a pistol loaded with ball at his wife, in Catharine street. It appeared that they were not living together, but had been separated for a long time. The ball entered her back just above the hip. Her recovery is very doubtful. The offender was immediately arrested and taken to the police office.

Sudden Death.—The Baltimore Patriot states that an old gentleman about 70 years of age, named Moses Wells, left Baltimore on Friday morning in the cars for Ellicott's Mills—when about five miles from the city he was struck with Paralysis, which terminated in his death at the Patapsco Hotel about 2 o'clock.

Slow Promotion.—It was lately stated in the House of Commons, that some of the midshipmen in the English Navy were Grandfathers!

The President.—The Globe of Tuesday says—"We are gratified to learn from a letter dated Abington, July 23, that the President had reached that place on the morning of that day. The writer adds—'He is greatly improved by the travel, and is really stronger and more hearty than I have seen him for the last sixteen years.'"

Capt. Jones has been ordered to the command of the Revenue Cutter McLane, on the New Bedford Station, where he is expected in about three weeks.

Chevalier Neukomn.—The Atlas states that this distinguished man has abandoned his intention of visiting Boston.

The Centennial Celebration takes place at Providence this day.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.—The Barn attached to the Alms House belonging to the town of Cambridge was set fire to on the night of 29th ult. by which the whole establishment was destroyed. An aged man, one of the inmates, perished in the flames. The above named reward will be paid by the town of Cambridge to any person who may furnish such information to either of the subscribers, as shall lead to the detection of the perpetrator of this aggravated crime.

DR. BRANDRETH

WANTS NO COLLEGE, NO INSTITUTION, NO MONOPOLY, NO CHARTER—HE BEING QUITE SATISFIED TO REST ON THE PATRONAGE OF THE PUBLIC FOR THE SUCCESS OF HIS GRANDFATHER'S VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL PILLS—ESTABLISHED IN ENGLAND IN 1751.

"Science should contribute to the Comfort, Health and Happiness of Mankind."

ON the 18th of May, 1835, these now truly celebrated Pills were first made known in the United States, although in Europe they had been previously before the public nearly a century. The American public naturally viewed them with suspicion, but as on trial they were found what they professed, it was soon displaced by the greatest confidence. They have secured this character, too, under very adverse circumstances, having to contend with the base slanders promulgated by those interested in keeping mankind in a state of error, as regards the functions of their bodies. Dr Brandreth would here impress on his friends and the public generally, that however different may be the action of the pills at different times, that such different action arises not from any alteration in the pills, but from the state of the body—they should always be persevered in, until the action is uniform—for they are an effectual assistant of nature, having the same kind of action on the human body that storms and hurricanes have on the air, or that the tides have upon the ocean—they purify. What so judicious as the copying of nature? We see when she wishes to become purified, that she puts herself in commotion, which has the purifying effect. And so we, to induce purity in our bodies, bring about a natural commotion by artificial means, and the experience has taught those who have adopted this course, and who for this purpose have used these pills, that they were in the right, because the result has been sound health, or in other words, every organ has become restored to a state of purity consistent with its functions—and although there is many whose bodies are in such a state of debility and suffering, that all which can reasonably be expected is temporary relief—yet, nevertheless, many persons who have commenced with them under the most trying circumstances of bodily affliction, when every other means and medicine has proved altogether unavailing, have been restored to health and happiness from their use—and the consequence is, they are now recommended by thousands of persons whom they have cured of Consumption, Influenza, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Pains, and a sense of fulness in the back part of the head, usually the symptoms of Apoplexy, Jaundice, Fever and Ague, Bilious, Scarlet, Typhus, Yellow, and common Fevers of all kinds, Asthma, Gout, Rheumatism, Nervous Diseases, Liver Complaint, Pleurisy, Inward Weakness, Depression of the Spirits, Ruptures, Inflammation, Sore Eyes, Fits, Palsy, Dropsy, Small Pox, Measles, Croup, Coughs, Whooping Cough, Quinsey, Cholic, Cholera Morbus, Gravel, Worms, Dysentery, Deafness, Ringing Noises in the Head, King's Evil, Scrofula, Erysipelas, or St Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, White Swellings, Ulcers, some of 30 years standing, Cancers, Tumors, Swelled Feet and Legs, Piles, Costiveness, all Eruptions of the Skin, Frightful Dreams, Female Complaints of every kind especially obstructions, relaxations, &c.

8900 testimonials have been received from individuals of the highest respectability. Call at Dr B's store and read the original letters, all proving the extraordinary power of Brandreth's Pills in removing diseases of the most opposite character from the constitution. They in fact prove, by the cures they make, that there is no necessity for any other medicine.

Although Dr B. has enumerated by name the above diseases he is nevertheless of opinion with his grandfather, the celebrated Dr Wm. Brandreth, that there is only ONE DISEASE, an impurity of the blood, which by impeding the circulation, brings on inflammation, and consequent derangement in the organ or part where such impurity of the blood settles—and that it is the different appearances which this inflammation or derangement puts on, that have caused medical men to designate such appearances by various names, but which are in fact only the same disease, with more or less virulence. Dr Wm Brandreth was so fully convinced of the truth of the above simple theory, that he spent 30 years in experiment and laborious research into the medicinal properties of the numerous plants composing the Vegetable Kingdom—his object being to compose a medicine which should at once purify, and produce by specific action, a removal of all bad humors from the blood by the stomach and bowels, as by the continuation of the use of such a medicine, such humors are sure to be carried off, and the blood assumes a state of purity—and whoever takes these pills, and perseveres with them, will be satisfied that Dr Wm. Brandreth fully attained his philanthropic object. It is now an absolute and known fact, that every disease, whether it be in the head or feet, in the brain or meanest member—whether it be an outward ulcer, or an inward abscess, are all, though arising from many causes, reducible to this one grand effect, namely, impurity of blood.

In all cases they will be found a safe and simple remedy, yet all powerful for the removal of disease, whether chronic or recent, infectious or otherwise; and what makes them particularly adapted for this country, is that there is not the slightest liability to cold when taking them—indeed, the system is absolutely less susceptible of cold when under their influence, than at any other time;—therefore, in this climate, they are invaluable. Neither do they require change of diet or care of any kind. In England, these pills have been the only medicine of many families for periods varying from forty to sixty years, and have always proved effectual in restoring health whenever an aberation from it has occurred.

In many cases where the dreadful ravages of ulceration laid bare ligament and bone, and where to all appearance no human means could save life, have patients by the use of these pills, been restored to good health—the devouring disease having been completely eradicated.

In consequence of the pleasantness of their operation, and the dose not generally being required to be more than four or five pills, (merely keeping in view the drain upon the humors) they are fast superseding every other preparation of professed similar import. Cases may occur where it will be very proper to take twenty or even thirty or more pills—this must be considered with reference to highly inflammatory disease, or when great pain is experienced.

As Brandreth's Pills prevent Scurvy, Costiveness, and its consequences, seafaring men, and all travellers to foreign regions, should not be without them, in order to resort to on every occasion of illness.

N. B. Time or climate affects them not.

Southern gentlemen will find this medicine one which will ensure health to the people on their estates.

CANCERS—Several cases of cure can be referred to—the cure is certain, if perseverance in the medicine is used.

CONSUMPTION—Reference can be made to numbers who have been cured in New York and Brooklyn of this disease.

HIGHLY ELIGIBLE MANUFACTURING LOCATION.—The Managers of the Trenton Delaware Falls Company have the pleasure to announce to the manufacturers of the United States, that their works are now on the eve of completion, and that they are ready to furnish water power for propelling any kind of machinery.

Although the water has but recently been introduced into the race-way, seven mills of different kinds are now in operation upon it.

The Company derive their supply of water from the river Delaware, taking it therefrom by means of a canal or main race way, about five miles above the city of Trenton, and conduct it thus along the river to the village of Lamberton, three fourths of a mile below the city, and upon the navigable tide water of the river.

The race way is 60 feet wide at the top water line, 6 feet deep, and at the lowest stage of the river known, supplies a column of water equal to 23,868 cubic feet per minute. The fall at the Assanpink is 14 feet, and at the company's sites is 18½ feet. This volume of water may be doubled when desired.

The charge for the water is $3 per square inch per annum, above the Assanpink, where the head and fall is 14 feet, and $4 below the Assanpink, where the head and fall is 18½ feet at medium tides. The above prices are upon the hypothesis that the water is drawn under a three feet head—if drawn under a less head the price is proportionably less, according to the tables of calculation in the office of the company.

A number of valuable mill sites, along the line of the race way, owned by individuals, are now in the market. In addition to these, the company possess about 20 most eligible sit uations. These, it is their determination to dispose of, by sale or rent, on the most favorable terms, having procured them with that view. They have also about 200 building lots, which they design for the accommodation of the mills, on terms equally advantageous with those for the mill sites.

In addition to the above, the company contemplate in a short time, to build the shells of mills, upon favorable terms, to be agreed on, on plans to be presented to them, and these to rent with the water to manufacturers who will fill them with machinery.

They are now ready to receive proposals for leasing or selling sites—letting water—and erecting mills as above—and they invite the attention of the manufacturing community to their work.

The location of no manufacturing place could be more advantageous. In facilities of every description, Trenton far exceeds most manufacturing towns in the country. Situated between New York and Philadelphia, with a direct water communication with both cities—within two hours ride, by the Pennsylvania Railroad, of Philadelphia; and within four hours ride of New York, by the Straight Railroad, about to be constructed—lying on a noble river, navigable almost to the very doors of the mills, and penetrating a vast lumber and rich mineral and agricultural country for 150 miles above Trenton; the location is supplied on every hand with the most available means of communicating with a choice of markets, and of a certain and cheap conveyance of the raw materials to the mills. If cotton mills are established, the bales of cotton can be shipped at New Orleans and unladen at the company's wharves, without any intermediate labor or expense. If iron foundries are erected, an abundance of ore and coal may be had via the river Delaware and the Morris Canal from the Sussex and Morris iron, and Pensylvania coal mines. If merchant mills are put up, they will have the whole grain region of the valley of the Delaware to supply them. If saw mills, the hundreds of rafts of logs which every spring and fall descend the river, would be at their command. Indeed, as an abundant supply of the raw material, and a ready access to the best markets, are the great desiderata of all the various branches of manufactures, there is not one of them which could find a more eligible location in the Union than exists here.

Communications addressed to the subscriber will receive immediate attention.

PHILEMON DICKINSON, President.

Trenton, N. J. June 14, 1836.

N. B. A map exhibiting the location of the above work, with the contiguous public thoroughfares of land and water, may be seen at the City Hall, Boston. isM&T2m je21

EXHIBITION of a splendid collection of Scriptural and Historical Paintings, by Raphael and Correggio who have entitled themselves to be called the masters of the Arts. The Scriptural sublime representations consist of BELSHAZZAR'S FEAST to his courtiers—FALL OF BABYLON, which was owing to the incursions of enemies and the inundations of the Euphrates—and the DEPARTURE OF THE ISRAELITES FROM EGYPT, which took place at the time of their severe oppression by Pharaoh and his hosts.—Conflagration in New York and the City of Washington.

For a description of the above pictures, see small bills.

Also—the Boa Constrictor and Anaconda. The learned Monkey Don Pedro.

The above Paintings are the finest extant, of the original size—and to give the objects more perfect effect, they are arranged by a new process of DIOPTRICKS AND CATOPTRICKS which conveys to the scenery so complete an illusion that the spectators may well imagine that they see the objects in reality. Furthermore, great pains have been taken to give these Paintings that solemn effect the subjects so justly demand; and the proprietor fully trusts that the Scriptural Scenes depicted, will be sanctioned by the approbation of all classes.

The whole agreeable to this advertisement, will be exhibited in a large vehicle near Park Street Church in Tremont street, for three days only.

Admittance 12½ cents, without distinction of age. Open from 9 o'clock in the morning till 10 in the evening. au2

AUCTION SALES.

VALUABLE LOTS ON TREMONT STREET—Roxbury. At Auction—On Tuesday, 16th August, at 4 o'clock, P. M. on the premises, 30 lots, containing in all about 200,000 feet, valuable Land in Roxbury—being on the south-easterly side of Tremont street, and opposite to the estate of Jno. Heath, Esq., and but a very short distance from the Boston line.

These are the first high lands come to on that street after leaving the city, and from their proximity to which, and the very flourishing condition of that part of Roxbury, and the rapid rise taking place in lands in that section, render these lots a great object of speculation.

On most of these lots there overhang banks of Clay and Gravel, which will every year yield a great interest for the lands, and when removed, leave the foundation valuable for building. The Clay and Gravel are of superior quality, and ready sale.

The former is favorably situated for Brick making—being on a road where there is no toll, may be got to the city cheap—and sales of the Gravel may be made at a great profit, to any extent that may be desired, for finishing the many streets making in the vicinity of Tremont st.

The sales will be positive, to close a concern. ep—jy30

BENJAMIN LORING & CO. 122 State street, have just received by the Cameo, from London, a new article of the Steel Pen, manufactured by Perryian, the original inventor of this most wonderful improvement.

Patent Perryian Regulating Flat Spring Pen.—The flexibility given to this pen by the flat spring is superior to that found in the best quill, it may be made harder or softer, by placing the pen higher or lower in the holder; will write on any sort of paper with the greatest freedom, and never fatigues the hand.

Patent Perryian Regulating Spring Pen.—The novel invention, by means of the regulating spring, commands all the ease and freedom of the best quill; it may also be made harder or softer, to suit the hand or taste of the writer, by simply moving the spring higher or lower, according to the degree of flexibility required.

Patent Perryian Elastic Pen Holder, with appropriate Pens.—The novel construction of the elastic holder, confers in the Pen unequalled advantages, by imparting an agreeable softness and flexibility, rendering it so perfectly unrestrained in its action, that it never fatigues the hand, and enables it to pass over any description of paper with ease and expedition.

Patent Perryian India Rubber Spring Pen.—This novel application of Caoutchouc effects an extraordinary elasticity in the patent pen, and its advantages over the quill must be universally acknowledged.

Patent Perryian Fountain Pen.—Warranted to write more than fifty lines with one dip of ink.

Double Patent Perryian Pen, with patent elastic holder.—This instrument has obtained for the inventor two Patents from His Brittanic Majesty, and also two patents from His Majesty the King of the French, and is used in more than forty government offices.

☞ B. L. & Co. have also on hand twenty other kinds of patent pens, direct from the manufacturers.

CITY MARSHAL'S OFFICE, August 1, 1836.—NOTICE RESPECTING DOGS.—It having been represented to the Mayor and Aldermen, that much alarm exists in the community respecting the going at large of Dogs, the following extracts of the law of this Commonwealth, and the Ordinances of the city of Boston on this subject, are published for more general information.

By the 58th chapter of the Revised Statutes, Sec. 12, it is provided—"That every person who shall keep or own any dog, shall cause to be constantly kept about the neck of such dog, a collar, with the name and place of residence of such owner or keeper legibly marked on the same—and any person may kill any dog being without a collar as aforesaid."

An Ordinance passed by the City Council, December 26, 1825, to restrain the going at large of dogs within this city, provides that no dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose within the streets, lanes, alleys, courts, unenclosed or public places, in the city, without a license therefor, first had and obtained from the City Clerk, nor without having a collar, to be constantly worn by such dog, with the christian and surname thereon—and in case any dog shall be found loose, or going at large contrary to the provisions of said ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof, or the head of the family, or keeper of the house where such dog is kept or harbored, shall forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding ten dollars. The said ordinance also provides that the Mayor upon complaint made to him, may direct dangerous and noisy dogs to be removed from the city, or destroyed—and makes it the duty of the marshal of the city to cause all dogs to be destroyed, wheresoever owned or kept, going at large within the city, and not having a collar upon their necks.

That part of the ordinance requiring the Marshal to cause such dogs to be destroyed, is now in the progress of performance—and all citizens are hereby requested to give him such information of unlicensed dogs being at large, and the names of the owners, keepers, or heads of the families where such dogs are kept or harbored, as may lead to a more efficient execution of the law, or such information, upon any other subject within the scope of his duty, as may lead to the detection of offenders. By order of the Mayor and Aldermen.

VEGETABLE RHEUMATIC PILLS.—Rheumatism in all its varieties, is one of those disorders which requires the most particular attention. It is a very common complaint throughout the country, and ought to attract the attention of the medical faculty. It is a complaint for which there have been many remedies invented.(some very good) but these pills are now presented to the public, as a medicine, superior to any before offered, and will be found by all who make a fair trial of them, to be the most efficient remedy for the following painful disorders, viz:—Rheumatism, both acute and chronic, Gout, Spasm, Cramp, and all those various rheumatic pains so often met with in the stomach, bowels, back, and limbs—they are also a powerful medicine for cleansing the blood of foul and viscid humors—likewise, in dropsical swelling in combination with rheumatic affections, as well as in general dropsy: they have an excellent effect as a hydrogogue cathartic—also, in doses sufficient for a mild operation, they are an invaluable remedy for the Files, as well as for all complaints caused by colds obstructing the circulation, and creating a foul and cankerous state of the blood. These rheumatic pills offered the public for trial, will be found, for common use, a most safe, effectual, and pleasant physic—being composed entirely of vegetable materials; they do not predispose the system to take cold, and may be taken at any time. They cause an appetite, assist digestion, and carry off crudities from the stomach. If on taking cold, a few of these pills are taken on going to bed, they will operate the next day, and carry off bad effects which might remain.

The salutary effects of these pills in all of the above complaints, having been thoroughly tested, they are confidently recommended to the public as an effectual remedy, if taken in due season, and the directions strictly adhered to.

Plain directions accompany each box.

☞ Prepared by T. CORBETT, United Society, Canterbury, N. H. The formulaes of which are known and approved by the medical faculty of our country.

This may certify, that the subscribers have examined, by request, the formula for the Vegetable Rheumatic Pills, made by Dr Thomas Corbett, of the United Society of Shakers, at Canterbury, N. H., and having compared it with that of the celebrated Dean's Rheumatic Pills, are of opinion, that the substitution of "extracts" in the former, for the vegetables in substance in the latter, with some other alterations, gives to his formula a decided preference as a mild efficient cathartic over that of Dean's.

EXPERIENCE versus THEORY.

DR. W. EVANS' CAMOMILE PILLS, having long acquired an exalted reputation in private practice by an invarible efficacy which could only have resulted from their exalted worth, he is confident that he has only to get them extensively known to render that reputation universal. Unlike the clamorous host of quack medicines with which the columns of the public press are crowded, these Camomile Pills, have the testimony of the whole medical profession in their favor, and not a single case of ill consequences or inefficacy to be alledged against them. Their very name candidly acknowledges what they are composed of—and they honestly promise no more than they faithfully perform. They are composed of a beautiful extract of the Camomile flowers, in which all the tonic and restorative principles of that inestimable plant is preserved; and its irritating principle is neutralised by an alkeline infusion—they, therefore, necessarily afford immediate relief, in all cases of dyspepsia, or other derangements of the digestive organs. In sick headaches, nervous debility spasmodic affections, prostration of muscular and vital energy, and consequent loss of ease, comfort, and ultimately of life itself they restore health in the most impaired and hopeless constitutions, not by being taken in excessive quantities, for the necessity of their use continually decreases, as of course it ought to do, if they are good for anything—by their direct adaptation to the powers of the human stomach. There is one disease, however, which is unhappily but too prevalent, in which their ability will perhaps become pre-eminent, and that is in the disease which is produced by violent drastic purges, taken in pernicious quantities, and which may be termed the "Quack Mortem" disease. The excessive debility, both of body and mind, produced by this destructive practice, can only be relieved by a tonic, and such as the Camomile preparation contains. Dr W. Evans supplies an antidote for a host of public poisons, and a remedy for all those diseases which he professes to cure. A single trial will prove the vast superiorito of a course of practice which is based upon science, experience, common sense and honesty.

TO THE LADIES.—Amongst thousands of ladies benefitted by Dr W. Evans' Camomile Pills, Mrs M. Beaumont (corner of Canal and Washington streets) has kindly allowed it to be made known for the benefit of others, that she was brought (by mental affliction) to a very weak and bad state of health, with pains in the side and head, was recommended to take Dr. W. Evans' Camomile Pills, which she has done to her comfort of mind and restoration of health. MRS. M. BEAUMONT.

TO THE AFFLICTED.—For the benefit of the public, and in gratitude to Dr W. Evans, I consider it a duty I owe, to make known the great good I have derived from EVANS' CAMOMILE PILLS. Having been five years afflicted with dyspepsia of the worst kind, I made application to numerous sources without benefit, but by the use of three bottles of Evans' Camomile Pills, and three boxes of Evans's Aperient Pills, I have found signal relief, fully to my satisfaction, and I am more healthy than I have been for many years. The symptoms (which were pains in the chest, weaknesses in the whole frame, heart-burn, flatulency, acidity, and headache) are all removed. I deliver this testimony over to Dr Evans for his and the public benefit, for it to be made known. I hereby sign my name and address.

EDWARD RHODES, 95 Crosby street, N. Y.

A great many persons have been benefited and cured of different complaints: such as Dyspepsia, Consumption, Billious and Liver complaints, Headache, Weakness, Female Complaints, Nervous Diseases, Spasms, and others of all those Complaints for which the Pills are so efficacious.

Dr W. Evans' Office where both his Camomile and Aperient Family Pills can be obtained, is at 95 Division street, New York.

ADAMS'S PATENT

THE subscriber has on hand a good assortment of the Swelled Beam Windlass Bedsteads, which, for comfort and convenience is undoubtedly the best article yet invented; its chief peculiarity is that of the Swelled Beam, the effect of which is to produce a crowning, and elastic sacking, and effectually provides against its saging. They are easily set up or taken down, and may be saved in case of fire as easily as any other piece of furniture, and from its mode of construction less liable to harbor insects than any other kind; but above all its advantages is the ease and comfort obtained from the sacking, by means of its being made and kept elastic by means of the Swelled Beam, (the form of which is exhibited in the above cut.)

Orders thankfully received, and prompply attended to
CHARLES ADAMS, Patentee,
422 Washington st. a few doors south of Washington Bank.

C. A. has added a steam power to his manufactory which will enable him to give a full supply at a cheaper rate than hertofore.
